

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

VI. Another Case of a Person bit by a Mad-Dog, drawn up by David Hartley, M. A. and Mr. Fr. Sandys, communicated to the ROYAL SOCIETY by Francis Wollaston, Esq; F. R. S.

ABOUT the latter End of November 1732. Mr. Soame's Groom was bit in the Hand by a Mad-Dog, so as to fetch Blood. It was not known in the Family for three Days. On the 4th Day, when Fr. Sandys first saw it, the Wound was healed; but it was opened again by him, and kept so for some time, but at last healed sooner than was intended, by the Neglect of the Servant. He was bled, took a Purge, after that half an Ounce of Pulvis Antilyffus every Morning for three Mornings, and was ordered to go into cold Water every Day for some time; but he neglected it after the 3d Day. Besides this, Fr. Sandys order'd him to forbear all Meats, and drink nothing but Water. He continued in this Regimen for about five Weeks; then finding himself well, would confine himself no longer to it.

On Sunday, Jan. 7. following, he was seized with a Sickness, Vertigo, and faltering in his Speech and Memory; and at last his Vertigo increased to such a Degree, that he fell down twice in the Space of half an Hour; and the last time did not recover his Senses, till he was put to Bed, and bled by a Person in the Neighbourhood, to the Quantity of 18 or 20 Ounces, by by his Master's Order. Fr. Sandys was sent for, but could not come. He continued all Night restless and sullen, and in the Morning was bled again, to the Quantity of 15 Ounces. D. Hartley was sent for, and came about Eight at Night, and found him very sullen, thirsty, but averse to drinking, and his Pulse quick and hard. He ordered him to be put into the cold Bath; but he refused to comply with it, till he saw that Force would be used. About Midnight his Pulse rising, the Doctor ordered him to be bled to the Quantity of 16 or 18 Ounces: He continued all Night restless. About Eight in the Morning he went into the cold Bath again: About 10 D. Hartley went away, leaving it as his Opinion, that the cold Bath and Bleeding should be freely repeated, as the Circumstances should require. About Noon D. Sandys, being hitherto detained by Busines, came, and bled him immediately, to the Quantity of 18 or 20 Ounces: He continued all this Night restless. Upon Fr. Sandys's asking him whether his Aversion to drinking proceeded from any Pain in swallowing, or some other Cause? he said it was from a Pain in swallowing. The next Morning his Strength not being at all diminished, and his Pulse continuing full as vigorous as ever, Fr. Sandys bled him again to the Quantity of 15 or 16 Ounces; yet he still remained the same, and took the same Care of his Horses as usual. Fr. Sandys went away, leaving Orders that as long as these Symptoms, viz. Restlessness, Strength, and Aversion to drinking continued, he should be bled freely, and put into the cold Bath. He was bled twice more within the Week, so that the whole Quantity which which he lost in that time was about 140 Ounces. After the last bleeding his Symptoms disappeared, and he grew weak, low-spirited and sleepy: Then he went eight times into the cold Bath. He did not take any Medicines during his whole Illness.

D. Hartley.                    F. Sandys.

N. B. This Person hath continued well ever since,
Anno 1738.

See Dampier's Powder, N° 237. and N° 443.

Printed for T. WOODWARD, at the Half-Moon;
between the Two Temple-Gates in Fleetstreet, and C. DAVIS, the Corner of Pater-noster-row, next Warwick-lane; PRINTERS to the ROYAL SOCIETY. M.DCC.XXXIX.